4. Discussion.

a. All Eighth Army Soldiers: Adherence to Army standards is a matter of pride and discipline. All Eighth Army Soldiers will ensure that their uniforms are serviceable and will meet the grooming standards of AR 670-1. Unit commanders are responsible for ensuring that Soldiers present themselves in a professional manner and represent the US Army in a positive manner.

(1) Soldiers subject to this policy will wear the Army Service Uniform (ASU) or the Class A uniform when appearing at all ROK criminal court proceedings as an accused person or witness.

(2) Soldiers subject to this policy will wear the ASU, the Class A uniform or Class B uniform when appearing before the following ROK criminal proceedings:

(a) Korean National Police (KNP) Interviews;

(b) KNP Investigation proceedings;

(3) As an exception, for KNP Interviews and KNP Investigation proceedings referred to in para 4a(2) above, the Soldier's Company Commander or 1SG may authorize business casual or other appropriate civilian attire after inspecting the accused's/witness' appearance.

(4) In addition to proper uniform wear and grooming standards, Soldiers who appear before ROK criminal court proceedings, KNP interviews and investigation proceedings are expected to maintain the highest standards of military bearing, deportment and behavior when conducting themselves in these proceedings.

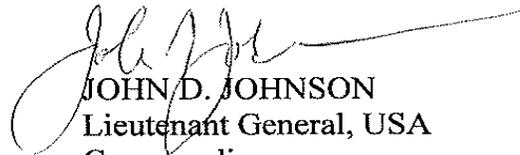

b. US SOFA Representatives: All Soldiers performing duties as US SOFA representatives will wear the appropriate military uniform to present themselves and represent the United States Army in a positive and professional manner. SOFA Representatives will adhere to the rules in para 4a(1) and 4a(2) above. Military personnel performing these duties will ensure that their uniform is serviceable and will meet the grooming standards of AR 670-1. Unit commanders who designate these representatives are responsible for ensuring that Soldiers appear before ROK authorities in the proper military uniform.
