Chapter 1
Introduction

1-1. Purpose
This regulation prescribes mandatory theater specific required training that arriving personnel and units must complete prior to arrival in the Republic of Korea (ROK).

   a. This regulation outlines the training required and establishes responsibilities for ensuring training proficiency.

   b. The regulation also provides the procedure for conducting and certifying completion of the training.

1-2. References
Required and Related publications are listed in appendix A.

1-3. Explanation of Abbreviations
Abbreviations used in this regulation are explained in the glossary.

1-4. Expectation
It is imperative that arriving personnel and units complete the theater specific required training outlined in this regulation to facilitate accomplishment of their assigned missions or tasks, and at the same time, ensure they conduct themselves in a manner compatible and respectful of the culture and laws of the ROK. Sending and receiving commander and supervisor support is critical in ensuring the requirements of this regulation are accomplished. Tactical mistakes resulting from poor judgment or a lack of training are not only dangerous to our personnel - they can have strategic implications within the context of the ROK-US alliance. Failure to comply with this regulation could result in negative actions by the host nation, Status of Forces Agreement (SOFA) violations, or other consequences. Commanders and supervisors sending forces to Korea prepare their personnel and units to accomplish their mission and maintain good order and discipline by ensuring this training is completed prior to departure.

Chapter 2
Theater Specific Required Training

2-1. General
The USFK component and Staff elements and the unit commanders and supervisors sending forces to Korea must focus on obtaining and maintaining force readiness. This is our charge and responsibility. With the threat in close proximity that is capable of a near no-notice attack, we do not have the luxury of ramping up our readiness. We must truly be ready to “fight tonight”. The Combined Forces Command, supported by USFK, promotes security and peaceful development in Northeast Asia by deterring aggression, responding to crises, and fighting to win, if required. The theater specific required training outlined in this regulation helps ensure assigned and augmenting forces are well-trained and prepared to contribute to the execution of this vital mission, and conduct themselves in a manner compatible and respectful of the culture and laws of the ROK. This theater specific required training is posted on the USFK web site at www.usfk.mil under the Command Center, “Required Training”. All personnel performing duties in Korea must complete this training by reviewing/reading, understanding and adhering to the video, policy letters and web-based USFK Training Module provided on the Joint Knowledge Online (JKO) website. The training is valid for the entire tour for military and civilian personnel performing duties in Korea on a permanent assignment (completed one time prior to arrival in Korea for each permanent assignment). It must be completed once each 36 months for personnel on continuous extended assignment to Korea. It is an annual requirement (completed during the last 12 months) for military and civilian personnel performing duties in Korea on Temporary Duty (TDY).

2-2. Web-Based Theater Specific Required Training Specific training requirements that must be completed are listed below. Once the training is completed, students are required to print a certificate of completion and present it to their unit commander or supervisor and the sponsoring organization upon arrival in Korea. Unit or group level training is also acceptable with a memorandum from the unit commander or supervisor certifying the personnel completed the training and provided to each person for them to give their sponsoring organization in Korea upon arrival. The USFK staff responsible for maintaining the training posted on the USFK website is identified adjacent to each training requirement below.

Responsibilities

3-1. Personnel Required to Complete the Theater Specific Required Training
All arriving DOD military and civilian personnel and units must complete the theater specific required training prescribed in this regulation prior to arrival in Korea.

3-2. Unit Commanders and Supervisors Sending Personnel and Units to Korea Sending unit commanders and supervisors ensure units and personnel arrive in Korea trained and prepared to perform their assigned mission or duty by accomplishing the following:

   a. Ensure theater specific required training outlined in this regulation is completed prior to units and personnel arriving in Korea.

   b. Verify required service component related training is conducted.

   c. Ensure a unit is not sent to Korea with a readiness rating status C-2. The readiness ratings are defined in CJCSI 3401.02B, Force Readiness Reporting, which can be found in the Defense Technical Information Center (www.dtic.mil) library.

3-3. USFK Staff Directors
All USFK Staff Directors are responsible for verifying arriving personnel assigned to or in TDY status in support of their directorate complete the training outlined in this regulation prior to arrival in Korea. In the event an individual has not completed the required training, take immediate action upon arrival to complete the training. USFK staffs also complete the following actions:

   a. Ensure designated training modules in Section II above remain accurate and current.

3-4. USFK Service Component Commanders

USFK service component commanders are required to ensure subordinate unit commanders/supervisors sending personnel to Korea, and receiving subordinate unit commanders comply with the theater specific required training in this regulation. USFK service component commanders help ensure completion of required training by accomplishing the following actions:

   (2) Rotational unit commanders conduct mission analysis and train soldiers and civilians selected to fulfill taskings and requests for forces in the necessary tactical tasks and technical systems, as well as, ensuring they meet the minimum grade, military occupation specialty (MOS), and skill set as outlined in the Request for Forces (RFF). This includes, but is not limited to, tactical vehicle licensing, weapons qualification, security clearance verification and C4I automation systems training.

   (3) Train Army personnel expected to operate tactical vehicles in Korea on Army in Korea Regulation 350-4, 8th US Army Tactical Vehicle Movements in the Korean Theater of Operations. Place special emphasis on vehicle commander and convoy commander requirements.

   (4) Unit commanders sending personnel to Korea certify that their personnel comply with the procedures in this regulation and Army in Korea (AK) Regulation 350-2, Theater Specific Required Training for Arriving Personnel and Units Assigned to, Rotating to, or in Temporary Duty Status to Eighth Army prior to arrival in Korea.

(1) All Air Force units sending aircraft or personnel to Korea ensure they are current and qualified for the duties they will perform to include compliance with the theater specific required training in this regulation, and USFK Regulation 95-5, Armistice Deployments to ROK Air Bases and Airfields.

(2) For Air Force rotational units and personnel operating in Korea in support of large exercises (such as ULCHI-FREEDOM GUARDIAN and KEY RESOLVE/FOAL EAGLE), the deploying unit commander ensures compliance with this regulation. Deficiencies are identified upon arrival and made up during the provided “Just in Time” training.

(3) Units sending aircraft with more than five (5) personnel (other than large exercises) contact their host unit and coordinate with the 51st Logistics Readiness Squadron (LRS) at Osan Airbase, DSN 315-784-6707 or 8th LRS at Kunsan Airbase, DSN 315-782-4125 to set up a Reception Working Group (RWG), in accordance with base deployment plans. In these cases, the RWG identifies the deploying unit’s sponsor. Sponsorship responsibilities for individuals and small groups (such as conference attendees and cross country flights) fall to the host unit.

(4) Unit Commanders and supervisors ensure compliance with paragraph 13 of USFK Regulation 95-5, Armistice Deployments to ROK Air Bases and Airfields, which requires all USAF, USN or USMC fighter, reconnaissance, forward air controller, and non-theater airlift crews be briefed on Korean airspace procedures before conducting operational missions in Korea. A summary guide to air operations is available in the “Airspace 101” briefing which identifies required training, briefing items, and documentation, along with the respective OPR. Accomplish the applicable training prior to receiving approval to fly in Korea Training Areas. The deploying unit’s Commander, Director of Operations or Detachment Commander provide written certification (“7th Air Force Lawyer Letter”, available on the web site) that their deploying personnel are trained on the applicable Korean Theater air operations. The 7th AF Lawyer Letter is maintained by the 607th Combat Operations Squadron/Director of Operations and units update it annually. Following completion of this certification, 607th Air Operations Group authorizes deployed rotational units’ operations, by listing the unit, duration of deployment, and proposed mission types in the monthly “Off-Peninsula Units Training Letter.”

(5) Unit commanders sending personnel to Korea certify their personnel comply with Air Force specific medical screening procedures prior to arrival in Korea.
